

September 26, 2013

To Whom It May Concern:

Theresa Sutton informed us that she plans to donate 100% of proceeds from Omar's Dream Run to the Lucile Packard Foundation for Children's Health. These donations will provide vital support for Lucile Packard Children's Hospital and our continued commitment to provide the finest pediatric medicine to our community's children. Omar's Dream Run will be held on November 10, 2013 in San Jose, CA.

Lucile Packard Children's Hospital at Stanford is an internationally recognized 311-bed hospital and leading regional medical network providing a full complement of services for the health of children and expectant mothers. Together, our world-class Stanford Medicine doctors, nurses and staff deliver innovative, nurturing care and extraordinary outcomes in every pediatric and obstetric specialty. Packard Children's is annually ranked as one of the nation's finest by U.S. News & World Report and the only Northern California children's hospital with specialty programs ranked in the U.S. News Top 10. Learn more about our full range of preeminent programs at lpch.org and the Packard Children's Health Alliance at PCHA.org. Like us on Facebook, watch us on YouTube and follow us on Twitter.

Lucile Packard Children's Hospital and the Lucile Packard Foundation for Children's Health are not affiliated in any way with Theresa Sutton and are not involved in the planning, organization, or operation of this event. The Lucile Packard Foundation for Children's Health is a 501(c)(3) public charity addressing the special health needs of our region's children. The Lucile Packard Foundation for Children's Health is grateful for Theresa's support and for her intentions of donating 100% of proceeds to help support children cared for at Lucile Packard Children's Hospital.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "R Hochstetler".

Rachel Hochstetler
Community Relations Associate